Mr. Hale moved to supend the rules and adopt the following resolution:

Whereas. The currency now in use among the people of the United States, consists of the national band notes and the greenbacks -the latter being a debt of the government, widely distributed among the people, and the former being redeemable in greenbacks, and subject to like fluctuation with it; and, Whereas. The United States Treasury has thus far failed to meet its obligations and to redeem its notes, thereby depreciating the value of the people's money and keeping it at a large discount, which depression varies from day to day, causing risk and uncer-tainty in business affairs, to the great prejudice of all legitimate industry and enter-
